

HORNETSECURITY

Making your emails safe

About Hornetsecurity

Cloud computing has become an integral part of today's business world, and it is difficult to imagine IT departments without this technology.

Hornetsecurity has been focused on cloud computing since its inception in 2007. It was founded by Oliver Dehning and Daniel Hofmann under the name "Antispameurope" in Hanover.

Since then, the company has grown to over 350 employees offering comprehensive security solutions in the fields of email security and data storage. In addition to offering high level protection for customers' IT infrastructures, Hornetsecurity solutions stand out by being user friendly and easy to manage, and for their delivery of high-level transparency and control.

Awards

Hornetsecurity is one of the leading cloud email security and backup providers. This is demonstrated by the number of awards that have been won, including multiple wins at the Computer Security Awards, and being named a Trail Blazer in Radicati's Secure Email Gateway – Market Quadrant.
